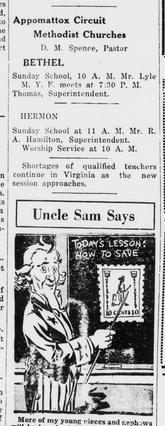
Uncle Sam Says



More of my young nieces and nephews will be in school this fall than ever before. One of the important lessons they will learn is that America is a free country with liberty for all. They will also learn that there are two forms of liberty — political and financial — and these is to purchase U. S. Savings Stamps through their School Savings program. Parents are now realizing that this early teaching of the habit of thrift will bring dividends of success in later years.

Pankey - Rudasill

The wedding of Miss Mary Alpha Rudasill, daughter of Mrs. Robert Luther Rudasill, of Woodville, and the late Mr. Rudasill, and Frank Lawson Pankey, son of Mr. Everett Leonard Pankey of Pamplin, and the late Mrs. Pankey, was solemnized on Saturday afternoon August 19, in the Woodville Baptist Church, Woodville, Virginia. The Reverend Felton Carter, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Albert M. Johnson, of New York City and Loudoun County, Virginia, wore a gown of white imported organdy over satin, fashioned with long pointed sleeves and scalloped yoke of chantilly lace, a fitted bodice and a full skirt formed of three tiers of ruffles pointed by chantilly lace insertion and ending in a long circular train. Her floor-length veil of illusion fell from a bonnet of white organdy rose petals, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. William Edward Hopkins, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Jessup, of South Hill; Mrs. John H. B. Williams, of Bloomfield, New Jersey; Miss Martha Ann Main, of Roanoke, and Mrs. Richard Blasser, of South Boston.

Master John Maurice O'Bannon, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer, and Mac D. Williams, of Richmond and Appomattox County, was best man. The groomsmen were Leonard Pankey, brother of the groom, of Yorktown; Powhatan Cox, of Gordonsville, and Walton Connelly and Burrel Lucas, both of Roanoke.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at "Lliadur," home of the bride's mother, near Woodville, after which the couple left for a southern wedding trip. Upon their return the couple will make their home in Louisville, Kentucky, where the groom is a student at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.
